OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Headline inflation slowed down 8.6% in February 2023 and further declined to 7.6% in March 2023. The key drivers for the inflation was driven by food followed by transport, utilities and fuel index. The BSP Monetary Board had also recently raised the policy rate by 25 basis points which bring its overnight repurchase facility to 6.25%. The BSP is likely to end their rate hike cycle by 25bps in May so as to control the elevation of the inflation. With this, the fund will continue to take on short term positions as inflation continues to decelerate in the next quarter.
